

Stutz Bearcat purrs at mall display

4-10-87

One of the prize possessions in the Richard D. Losee car collection, a 1915 Stutz Bearcat, is on display at the University Mall ZCMI store through Saturday.

"This is one of only eight known, original equipment cars like this," said JoAnn B. Losee of the car in her husband's collection. "It will go 65 mph on the highway ... it's licensed," she said. "You could go from here to New York and not worry."

Losee said the car sold for about $2,500 in 1915 at a time when the Model T Ford sold for about $250. She said a representative of the Imperial Palace collection in Las Vegas recently pegged the value of the car now at between $150,000 and $175,000.

The car is part of a display for Giorgio cosmetics. ZCMI Giorgio representative Barbara Cunningham (above) takes a turn behind the wheel in the display area.
